Dear Mr. Dalles:

I am in receipt of your response to the above captioned letter, dated July 25, 2006.

Unfortunately, I believe you may have misinterpreted what was being asked for, in my original letter. I was not requesting legal advice, concerning my civil action.

However, I was asking for your assistance in finding out my cases current status. This is in the scope of your offices duties and can be carried out by one of two actions. The first being, to access the file and inform me of the current status of the case by letter.

The second, being to simply supply me with a current copy of my court docket. It is the current course of action, I am requesting. I would appreciate your sending a copy of my court docket to me, so that I may consider possible future actions.

Thank you, in advance for your time, and assistance.

Sincerely, John Garrett
